The leading retailers of this country knew the superior stylishness and worthiness of the garments turned out by E. Grabenstein, of Wooster street, New York. But he suffered just as some of the biggest retailers suffered—many of which failed. Grabenstein couldn't "weather" the terrible storm of dullness and losses brought about by these failing retailers, and he was compelled to assign, which he did to Gus Lurie of 129-133 Wooster street, from whom we secured every single garment at 25c on the dollar.

Had this been our only outlet the quantity would have been too large. We have distributed them among our four stores—the largest portion of which are here, and will be ready tomorrow morning, and consists of coats, plush capes, skirts, suits and electric seal muffs.

LAW AGAINST THE BOLLERS

Morton Cadets Will Probably Get Into the Courts.

BITTER FEELING INCREASES

Last Night's Meeting Did Not Result Harmoniously and a Suit to Annul the New Articles of Incorporation Will Be Commenced. Discharges Threatened.

Another chapter was added last night to the long-drawn-out troubles of the Morton Cadets, who were some time ago threatened with disintegration by a bolting faction, at the regular weekly meeting when further attempts were made at settlement.

It is probable that the matter will find its way into the courts this week, for the Morton Cadets are now in the hands of the guardians themselves disposing of the matter.

It was expected that the final report of the auditing committee would be made. The members, however, were not prepared. In fact, it was learned, they may never be able to make a satisfactory report for the reasons that the next day they will work upon the executive, or fair committee, is ground too barren of favorable results.

THE EXPENDITURES.

Attempt after attempt has been made, it is said, to get an itemized statement of the expenses of the Morton Cadets, but the members are unable to give it. A bulk statement of expenditures was given at about $1,500, which the gross receipts were reckoned at $1,500.

In addition there is an indefinite sum ranging in the neighborhood of $400 in the bills that are not accounted in the list of expenses mentioned and that places the Morton Cadets in the receipt to about that amount.

At the meeting last night the bolting faction was the subject of discussion. They were given an honorable discharge. There were few supporters of such a proposal among the rank and file and a vote upon the matter resulted adversely to them.

A minor amendment was made to the constitution and in the rather lengthy debate that followed the original motion was allowed to be more or less left to view.

LEGAL ACTION.

At the last meeting the auditing committee had been instructed to gather affidavits from the young ladies who had followed the cadets as to the amounts they respectively took in during the time of their membership.

The cadets, however, refused to make a thorough canvass, they reported, and the matter was allowed to go over to the next meeting.

The feeling against the bollers is growing. At the last meeting a motion was made to have a general sentiment taken as to whether or not the cadets should be allowed to remain in the Morton Cadets, if not of the whole number.

The executive committee for inaugural week got down to work last night in the directors' room of the American Security and Trust Company, and discussed nearly all of the preliminary work.

Mr. C. J. Bell, general chairman, presided, and the occasion was a very informal one. The subcommittee on the seal with which they have severely done their work up to date. Mr. Bell also made an announcement of the meeting, in which he formally acknowledged the honor of his appointment, stated that the committee would be in session on the 14th, and that he had selected the various subcommittees as numerous as possible with a view to their previous experience in the work for such occasions. Mr. George H. Walker was secretary of the meeting.

CHARITY IS CUT OFF.

Mr. Bell was speaking of the bill, on conference with the subcommittee, any vacancies on committees that may be caused by duplications of names. He said that the names submitted by the chairman will be gone over before the personnel is announced. Mr. Bell does not make any other appointments on the committees.

A resolution was passed declaring that while no pains would be spared to extend a hearty welcome to all visitors and make all possible provision for their comfort, the committee would not be responsible for the expenses of visiting organizations. The committee will keep prices for services down to an arbitrary rate so as to prevent extortion or excessive charges.

The committee's action as to applications for aid as to expenses will be printed and sent to all such applicants.

A resolution of thanks was passed to the Secretary of War for his tender for the use of the building for the inauguration of such parts of the Army and Navy building as are under his control.

Also a vote of thanks was given to the Independent Ice Company for its offer of ice for the hall and for the local and national headquarters.

The matter of the place for the hall was taken up and discussed but informally. The question will probably be settled at the meeting which will be held on next Saturday night at the National Hotel, headquarters, the regular day of meeting to be Saturday, at 7:30 p. m.

LOST THEIR THREE CHILDREN

Drowning Traces Mother and Father May Kill Himself.

Nashua, N. H., Dec. 12.—A sad drowning accident occurred at Brookline yesterday. Three children of Edward Farasworth went to school yesterday.

Not returning home last night, search was instituted. The ice was found broken in a nearby pond, but darkness prevented further search. The search was continued this morning, when the bodies of the three were found in the pond.

They were a boy and two girls, of the ages of seven, eight and eleven years. The mother is crazed with grief and the father has gone into the woods and it is feared that he will commit suicide.

MRS. CLEVELAND AWAY.

She Spent Yesterday at Princeton Looking Over Her New Home.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Cleveland was in Princeton today and spent part of the afternoon looking over the President's newly purchased estate on Bayard avenue.

Stables will soon be erected on the premises and an addition will also be built to the house.

After the inspection Prof. West showed Mrs. Cleveland through the university buildings and grounds, and the party left town on a late train this afternoon.

ACTION BY CONGRESS.

Maceo's Betrayal May Lead to Resolutions of Inquiry.

The news of the alleged assassination of Maceo under the cover of what was practically a flag of truce is accepted as true at the Cuban legation here, and was received with a thrill of horror by Congressmen who learned of it.

If authentic confirmation of Mr. Maceo's story should be received from Acting Consul General Springer in Havana, some immediate action from Congress may be looked for in the near future.
